Signs. We believe that the high mortality rate of most new businesses might be laid to lack of proper advertising. But be it a business, town or the United States of America — advertising, of the proper kind, is not only essential but vital.

We think one of the best forms of advertising for towns is the signs that greet the motorist when he is entering or leaving that town. Signs of various service clubs bidding welcome at their respective meetings — and one to tell him hello and welcome, another inviting him back — from the town itself.

Two reasons. First, most of the larger cities do it. Second, we have had many occasions in the past to enter a certain town where a huge old-fashioned iron archway sign above the highway bade one and all "Welcome." Within this word was holes for innumerable electric light globes, about fifty percent of which were empty. The iron itself was many years old and rusty — and discounting the possibly that the message might to some degree be superficial — it nevertheless gave us something of a feeling of welcome.

NOW — Lemon Grove WILL have some road signs in the near future. Hope to have details and dates next week. ("Lemon Grove" papers note!)

"Good things come in small packages" and "Size makes no difference." Take your choice but we're leaning towards the first now. When our paper supply house, the largest on the west coast, informed us that they would be forced to substitute smaller size sheets this shipment, we fully intended the new size of the Review to be only temporary. Now, however, with only favorable reaction, the new size will probably become permanent.

The trend is to our size. One half of the newspapers in New York City are our size or smaller. One third of Chicago's ditto. Reason being, more convenient to read. Only disadvantage, cuts down publishers' revenue from full page ads. We predict, however that one of these days, consideration for the reader will be given number one priority.

Quite a record those westerners set in the Christmas tree party fund. 100%. A little tough to beat. In fact, in order to equal it, some of the easterners are gonna hafta call at either Frank Higgins Art Craft shop at 7324 Broadway, or Hill's Jewelry store at 3462 Main street and plank down their three (no more) simoleons. Why? Committee, after several attempts can't catch'em in.

That wasn't the mighty monarch of the rails, the SD&AE quietly puffing it's way through town Tuesday evening — it was Tony Sonka weilding a spade—ground-breaking for the big Christmas tree!

Incidentally why is Arizona in the title? The way that thing labors through here, we often wonder if it ever arrives at Jamul. Who's gonna have a sign put up at the hwy. 80-94 Y in east La Mesa reading "—Miles to Lemon Grove"? Or does no one care?

Gonna cool down a little on signs — start on a bank next week. Have a plan.

KILL OLD FIRE DISTRICT SAY SIX TO ONE

Results of the election Tuesday to dissolve the fire district show the people of Lemon Grove united in their desire for fire protection. The total votes cast were 177, with 153 in favor of dissolving and 24 opposed.

In Vista La Mesa, the count was 75 for and 13 against; in Monterey Heights, 21 for and 2 against; and in Lemon Grove central precinct, 57 for, 9 against.

J. B. Pearce, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who has worked to bring fire protection to this area, assisted by many other citizens, expressed pleasure at the unity of purpose shown.

Mr. Pearce explained that the next step is to form a new fire district which can then move forward rapidly to secure necessary buildings and equipment. He and his staff are giving all possible impetus to this project and will announce developments as they arise.

Attempting to Rush Action on College Extension

Pressure is being brought to bear to complete the College Avenue extension program as soon as possible. The latest information discloses that the city of San Diego has offered to surface the road if the County Board of Supervisors will grade the roadway.

Dr. Wm. P. Odom, Burl Phelps and others are planning a meeting to bring the newest ideas to a head and rush completion at the earliest possible date.

It is possible that the matter will come up before the Board of Supervisors Monday and all residents and merchants in the area have been urged by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, to attend in order to demonstrate the wishes of the people of Lemon Grove.

Actual time at which the matter will be discussed was set at 2:30 p.m. Monday December 13, according to Ted Haaf, newly elected president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Monterey Heights Studies Costs of Street Lighting

Hand bills with data on a lighting district for the Monterey Heights area, promised by the Civic Organization at its November meeting were distributed to each home this week for the consideration and study by the citizens of the area in preparation for the monthly meeting of the Civic Organization to be held tonight, December 9, in the vacant store building next to the Monterey Snack Shop at 7:30 p.m.

Facts were presented covering the number of lights needed to place one at each intersection, and additional lamps along the longer streets.

Details on costs were shown and an example given to demonstrate the method of arriving at such costs. It was also brought out that as the total assessed valuation of the area increases, this amount will decrease accordingly.

All residents of the area have been urged to attend the Civic Organization meeting to discuss the proposed district. It was stated that if a majority of those present agreed, petitions would be put in circulation to organize the district.

Post Office to Remain Open Saturday P. Ms.

Starting Saturday, December 11, the Lemon Grove Postoffice will remain open each Saturday afternoon until after Christmas, Postmaster C. M. Nicolson announced today.

The seasonal increase in mail handling has already begun to be felt, Miss Nicolson explained, and the additional hours to accommodate patrons will also alleviate crowded conditions caused by the extra mail.

Limb of Dates Attracts Interest

No little amount of interest is being evinced at an unusual exhibit at the Shopping Center this week.

The cause for the ohs and ahs is a full limb of dates which were brought back from India by M. H. McCrary who has returned from a trip to that section.

An entire class of children from the Lemon Grove school was among the hundreds of persons who enjoyed viewing the unusual (here) sample of mother nature's handiwork.

Decorations Group to Start Sunday

By Wednesday afternoon the concrete base for the Community Christmas tree was completely installed and the tree will be erected Friday, December 10.

The decorating committee will meet Sunday at 7:30 a.m. in front of the Lemon Grove Review office at 7812 Broadway. Mr. Higgins urges that all decorators arrive as promptly as possible.

The tree is approximately 30 feet tall and the decorations are now ready. There will be some heavy machinery available for the trimming and a goodly number of sidewalk superintendents is expected.

JOHN HILL WILL HEAD BUSINESS MEN IN 1949

John A. Hill, Lemon Grove jeweler, was unanimously elected president of the Lemon Grove Business Men's Association Tuesday noon at the regular meeting of that organization held at the Lemon Grove Country Club.

Bob Johnson was elected vice-president, and Paul Duley became secretary-treasurer. Elected to the Board of Directors were Frank Higgins, Rev. Dan Apra and George White.

Previous to the election, announcement was made that the city of San Diego had agreed to surface the new College Avenue Extension if the County would grade the road. Possibility of an armory for the area adjacent to the Naval Radio installations and the future erection of a university were also reported. Approximate cost of the armory was set at between $120,000.00 and $167,000.00.

Frank Higgins reported on his progress with plans for the Christmas tree, sponsored by the Business Men and the Christmas party sponsored by the Coordinating Council. Mr. Higgins is chairman of both groups for the tree and party. He reported collections from the merchants, of more than $200.00. A magnificent tree has been donated by Mr. Westover of the Lemon Grove Lumber Company, according to Higgins.

Volunteers were asked for helping make the crosswalks over the tracks between Main and Imperial avenue. Work is to be done Sunday morning. Joe Beyers has donated his equipment and time.

J. B. Pearce, president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, again urged everyone to vote on dissolution of the old fire district and told of plans to re-

TED HAAF NEW HEAD CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The regular annual meeting of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening at the Forward Club house. The meeting was called to order by J. B. Pearce, president.

The secretary first read the minutes of the 1947 meeting, and the treasurer's report. The latter report showed $381.79 on hand December 1947; collections of $1017.40, expenditures of $728.66 and cash on hand, $670.53.

The president then announced that the new secretary was Andy T. Benson, and asked him to read the results of the election for members of the Board of Directors. Mr. Benson read the names as follows: Ted Haaf, 83 votes; V. Dorman, 68 votes; John Hill, 63; J. B. Pearce, 54; Rev. Mulcahy, 46; Art Boese, 44; Col. Burgess, 39; Paul Duley, 38; B. Webber, 20; C. Monnell, 19, and Bill Dobbins, 15. Thus the first four were elected to the board.

Mr. Pearce reported that out of a membership of 185, 124 votes were cast. He then announced that there had been considerable correspondence regarding street lights and that results were yet to be forthcoming. About the same amount of correspondence had been required to accomplish the erection of speed limit signs in the 35 mile zone; red tape being the cause of so much delay.

The retiring president also requested that everyone vote in the election Wednesday to dissolve the present fire district. He also announced that in three or four months a plan might be put into effect to reduce the additional taxes for the fire district from approximately 49c per hundred dollars valuation to 12c to 15c.

To Take Action Against Above Ground Storage

The four large gasoline and oil storage tanks standing upright at the corner of Massachusetts and Broadway constitute a menace, according to a complaint registered with the county board of supervisors.

J. B. Pearce retiring president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, stated that the above ground tanks are in direct violation to three city and county ordinances.

Harold V. Krotzsch, chief county building inspector, also complained and asked the supervisors to take legal action.

County Supervisors instructed the County Counsel's Office to begin action at once, against the owners of the tanks.

duce initial costs of the new district's fire fighting equipment.

A request for donations to the Garden Section of the Forward Club to help defray the cost of prizes for the Christmas home decoration plan was discussed and the final decision was to do-

LET'S DISCUSS IT

by Mrs. Agnes Whitlock

How many times have you thought of the 'old times,' the old street or the old town? Most of us have strayed away from the original 'home,' but be there one among us too old to remember the surroundings we grew up in, or the pranks of our youth.

Dagwood does it again! Chalk up another kayo for Arthur Lake as he bowls the mailman over once more. This time, it's in "Blondie's Reward," Columbia's film, at the Grove Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Many an hour has been spent in spinning tales of the past. How the flowers in your front yard were the prettiest, or how, right in the middle of a hot ball game the ball flew over and hit 'old man Jones' window.

Did you ever stray up into someone's fruit tree and gorge yourself until you were too full and sick to run, if you had been caught? It is odd, but forbidden fruit always looks so sweet.

The neighborhood parties were really something, and not expensive, either.

"Ah, yes, the good old days. Times have changed," you say. But have they really changed that much? No, but you have. You're getting older, Chum, it is getting a little harder for you to realize that some of the things the younger set are doing now, are along the same line of things you did, and called pranks.

By the way, have you noticed the yards at this time of year? You know we have some very pretty places here in Lemon Grove. They are not all on one street either, they are all over our little town. I'll bet that most of them surpass those 'back home,' too.

The people are just as nice, too, but you'll never know if you don't get out and meet some of them.

If you are looking you can find beauty and goodwill in the most squalid surroundings.

The leaves are turning color and falling and there seems to be so many red and gold flowers now, could be that nature is getting ready for Christmas.

The beautiful Christmas season

RETURNED SATURDAY FROM 10,000 MILE TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Singleton of 7376 Central Avenue returned last Saturday from a ten thousand and mile motor trip. During the journey they visited twenty-eight states and the District of Columbia. Their License plate elicited many friendly greetings and often many questions from would be California residents.

The exception was a man from Miami.

"What part of California are you from?" he inquired. "San Diego?" he repeated with mock indifference. "Never heard of the place!"

The Singletons express delight that their home is in Lemon Grove. They wonder that everybody doesn't want to come here to live.

is one time of year when everyone should have a little joy in their lives.

It is rather hard to see nature's beauties or have the Christmas spirit when you are laden down with trouble and worry. There may be families here who are anticipating a not so happy Christmas. If you know of anyone in this condition call H6-9314 and I'll try to see that Christmas is made a little happier for them.

Knowing that you are helping make life happier for a fellow being is a wonderful feeling that everyone should experience at least once.

Why not make this Christmas a happy one for yourself and someone less fortunate. In the future it will be a great deal better to be able to remember, 'that good old Christmas,' than 'that trying time when—'

LEMON GROVE REVIEW
Thursday, December 9, 1948

Dig for Dog Law For Doggone Dogs

Twelve Lemon Grove residents filed a petition with the County Board of Supervisors last week to adopt an ordinance "that will force dog owners to take care of their dogs instead of allowing them to run at large."

James B. Pearce, president of the Chamber of Commerce, added that as Lemon Grove was an unincorporated area, residents were at the mercy of these dogs unless the Board of Supervisors see fit to do something to curb the nuisance.

Residents claim that they have to "walk down some Grove streets armed with a pocket of rocks to avoid being bitten." One in particular, a large dog at a residence on Church Street was complained about to the board.

Supervisors have twice allotted Lemon Grove money toward building a youth or community center. As a matter of fact we are quite proud at this time to say that with this year's allotment from tax rolls, Lemon Grove will have close to $10,000.00. Enough, we think, to get started on a community center. Keep in mind, however, that building costs at the present time are so high that 10 grand would not build too much even in a two bedroom house, let alone a community center.

Bill remarks that the merchants and specifically the Chamber of Commerce, should build the youth center. To which I say, and other merchants, with what? What Bill doesn't know is that many merchants, in fact most Lemon Grove merchants, are struggling to eke out a bare living wage, let alone build community and youth centers.

Say we would have the money in Lemon Grove to build the center. Then where would the correct supervision come from? Certainly not from Biff Gardner's county recreation department. He doesn't have a budget to cover community supervision and certainly the people of Lemon Grove wouldn't foot the bill for salary purposes. I'm quite sure the community wouldn't go for this for they recently complained in force against the establishment of a fire district which would give them adequate protection at an average cost of $8.00 or $9.00 per year. Bill, believe me, we need fire protection far more than we do a paid youth center supervisor.

So what is the solution—not a curfew—but perhaps more consistent home buying by Lemon Grove residents at local stores so merchants could make ends meet and perhaps have a little left over for youth and community centers. It works both ways and if we could all remember in making purchases at other locations, just the simple fact of "trying Lemon Grove first" because if it is good for Lemon Grove, it is good for us personally. We would get a lot more of the things that will make the Grove a better place in which to live and that means letting the teenagers have what they need to better enjoy their lives.

And Bill, insofar as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned. The Chamber is merely an organization of merchants and other interested citizens whose annual dues amount to $5.00 per year. All the dues placed in one sum wouldn't buy a foundation

Next he declared was the College avenue extension program. This, he stated, would be a big improvement to Lemon Grove and Spring Valley and should be supported.

Ted Haaf was announced as the next president of the chamber and Jackson Ammons as vice president. They were elected by the board of directors at a special meeting Friday, December 3.

Mr. Pearce then stated as objectives for next year: completion of College avenue extension, signal lights and the fire district.

The meeting was then turned over to Raul A. Laughlin, chief of realty division, county assessors office who was substituting for Mr. Eddy, chief assessor, who was unable to attend. Mr. Laughlin's speech explained some of the methods by which property was assessed and taxed, and he showed charts to emphasize his points. The meeting was adjourned at 9:20 p. m.

A TRIP TO THE AMPHIBIOUS BASE

By ROBERT LEBB - 7th Grade
Just as we came in the amphibious base we saw a Jap landing barge. Two lieutenants escorted us around. They took us out on a dock where we saw two LSMRs. An LSMR is a ship that launches rockets. We passed by an outdoor and an indoor theatre, a great big swimming pool and a rifle range. Some boys and girls got to ride in a jeep.

We walked out on a pontoon causeway where they lower and raise anchors. Then one of the lieutenants took us to the hobby shop where, when the men were through working, they made something if they wished. Some men made rugs, airplanes, leathercraft, end tables, lamps out of bowling pins and a boat.

After that we went to another part of the amphibious base. We went into one room where they kept all their underwater demolition things. In that room they had a 7-man life raft, obstacles, a flying mattress or a life raft whose motor is in the front and instead of pushing the raft it pulls it. We saw the outfits they wore and the oxygen masks used when you stay under water for two hours. Someone pumps air and there is a weighted belt to keep you on the bottom. The only weapon a diver has is a knife.

ANOTHER BUSINESS FIRMS MARKS FIRST MILESTONE

One year ago Friday, on December 10, 1947, the Grove Paint Store opened its doors to the people of Lemon Grove. Since that time, Bill Dobbins the owner has helped many Lemon Grove people with their painting problems.

Dobbins likes to show a beginner how to refinish a piece of furniture or paint an unfinished chest or chair. He has always carried a full line of amateur and professional materials and equipment.

New lines have been added lately, including wallpaper, artists' supplies and paper drapes. Friendly service is the watchword at the Grove Paint Store and Bill says "Thank you" to his many friends and customers for their patronage.

Dinner was enjoyed at the Longhorst cafe in San Diego.

Forward Club Christmas Party Will Be Held December 10

The Forward Club Christmas party will be held Friday December 10, at 2:00 p. m. at the club house. Instead of a gift exchange this year, the members plan to contribute money for a gift of silver forks for the organization.

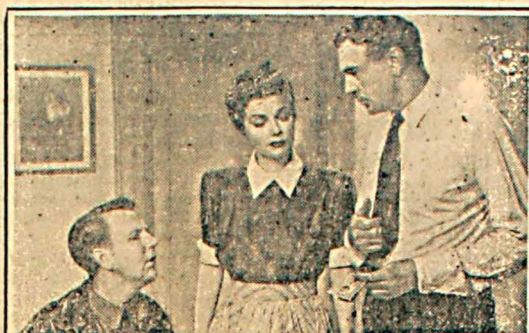

Hostesses for the event are Mrs. Amy Sonka, Mrs. R. N. Kobrich, Mrs. S. C. Brumbaugh, and Mrs. Joe Hogan.

COMMUNITY CHEST CONTRIBUTIONS TURNED IN

Due mainly to the efforts of Mrs. Russel Ray and Miss Annie Radcliff, quite a few more dollars were poured into the San Diego Community Chest fund.

Lemon Grove turned in $255.00 December 5, from the local solicitations. Many who are employed in San Diego made their contributions there, so no knowledge of those donations is made known here.

MULDER-COLLINS WEDDING

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized Friday, November 26, at the Little Chapel of the Roses at 2:00 p. m., as Miss Billee Ann Mulder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mulder of Palm Street, was married to Mr. Charles Warren Collins of Grossmont.

The happy couple left for a brief honeymoon, driving north, and both returning to their studies at State College Monday morning, where they are Juniors.

Miss Billie Lee Poor, a cousin of the former Billee Ann Mulder, came from Helena, Montana, last

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson of Los Angeles, were also guests; and Mr. and Mrs. Dana Mulder came from Pacific Union College for the event, returning Sunday.

A Talk With Parents

by L. E. McGee

This week I promised you some surprises. You won't be disappointed. If you have been reading my column very long, you know that I believe in corporal punishment, used sparingly as a definite curb on delinquency. I repeat once again, I don't consider a youngster delinquent when he does some of the things that you and I did years ago. The truth is that any teen-ager worth his salt will get into some kind of mischief if he is alive.

I do contend, however, that that youngster should be corralled and punished at once by whoever is in authority at the time. A paddle isn't necessarily indicated but should be available. That includes the free use of corporal punishment by teachers at their own discretion.

Several educators to whom I have talked have all admitted the practice of spanking in their own homes, but voiced two objections to its use in our schools. One reason given was that the teachers might be inclined to lean on a rod exclusively. My answer to that argument is simply that principals and superintendents correct other faults of teachers and could treat the fault of overdoing bodily punishment likewise.

The second reason (which always makes me laugh), is that children resent spanking outside the home. Well, spanking will be resented inside or outside the home. But isn't that just too bad? I received a traffic ticket two years ago and I resented that too, but the judge didn't try to find the cause and remove it. He fined me.

When paddling was prevalent in schools, children didn't resent it any more than they resented it at home. The reason was that they were used to it and expected it. Now perhaps the educators really think the youngsters would resent it to a point where they would dislike the teacher and learn less. Well, here's the surprise!

I interviewed a group of young people between 11 and 18 years of age. These people attended schools outside of California before coming here. Without exception, they were punished at will by the teachers in schools outside of this state. They didn't resent it. They all liked the teachers best who whipped them; they liked the schools better outside California. They all felt they learned more; they were, without exception, amazed at the conduct of children in our schools on first contact, and they all felt they had more respect for their schools and teachers elsewhere and were benefited by the spankings. I'd be happy to hear the arguments against the youth, whom our educators tell us can give us the best answers on their problems.

If you ever worked for a boss who was wishy-washy and couldn't control his business or employees; and then afterward worked for another who was firm, or even tough, you may remember that you had no respect for the easy-going man and while you griped about the tough one, you liked and respected him in spite of it.

Your child is no different than you. All that is needed by a teacher to apply a stick to some youngster's seat occasionally is to be sure he or she is fair and impartial in her administration. Teachers must use this faculty of fairness in any event.

Answers:

Dr. G:

I guess this column is the answer to your questions as we discussed it the other night. I am happy to see a good citizen recognize the qualities that go to teach good citizenship to our young future government administrators. I wish every parent would sit down for a half hour tonight and ask himself this question: "I wonder what kind of an official my boy would make for his country if he were elected to that office 30 years hence?" Wouldn't you think some parents might start making some changes in his methods to give his child a chance to become a responsible citizen?

If we don't make our children responsible for the things they do as youngsters, they'll certainly learn to be responsible as adults the hard way. Although I believe some parents and educators think that if we continue to look for the underlying cause of misbehavior and remove the cause, the boys and girls will acquire the habit of expecting that procedure. Then when they come up before a judge for stealing or murder, the judge will not punish them, he will remove the cause for their misdeeds. I'm just a little bit confused about that. It hasn't worked out that way so far. Thanks again for your interesting comments

'Good Sam's' Good Heart as Comedy Drama Theme

That charity should begin at home forms the theme of Leo McCarey's new dramatic comedy of family life, "Good Sam." Gary Cooper and Ann Sheridan are starred in the roles of husband and wife in this Rainbow Production for RKO release.

The story revolves around the adventures of a family involved in the most hilarious and sometimes poignant complications when Sam Clayton lets his generous impulses run away with him and reduces the family to straits. Known lovingly as 'Good Sam' (short for Good Samaritan) because he can never turn down any request for help, his generous deeds generally come to light when his long-suffering wife has plans for a new house or for new furniture or for something equally ambitious. How the family eventually attains a peaceful security in spite of Sam's impulses marks the climax to the plot.

Heading the supporting cast are Ray Collins, Edmund Lowe, Joan Lorrington and Clinton Sundberg. Leo McCarey produced and directed, as well as collaborated with John Klorer on the original story.

BOY SCOUTS NEWS

Mr. G. McFarland, Scoutmaster for the Lemon Grove Boy Scout troop 8, has announced that the Scout Jolopy Races are to be held this Sunday, December 12, at the east end of Mt. Vernon.

The first race will start at 10:00 a.m., and the main race starts at 1:00 p.m. First second and third prizes will be given to the winners of the main race. There also will be awarded first, second and third prizes for the best workmanship on the jolopies.

Judges will be the troop committeemen and the assistant scoutmaster, Mr. Jerry McMillan.

All Lemon Grove boys desiring to become Scouts are invited to attend the next meeting, to be held at the V. F. W. Hall in Lemon Grove, Monday evening, December 13, at 7:30 p.m.

Lemon Grove Boy Scouts of troop 8 are aiding the San Diego County Welfare Christmas Toy Drive by collecting toys to be distributed among the poor children of this county at Christmas.

Anyone have toys, games or books that can be repaired are asked to call H6-8008 by December 13 and they will be picked up. These toys will be re-conditioned for the less fortunate in this area.

At this time it might be well to note the earnestness and initiative of our Grove Boy Scout troop under the able guidance of the Scoutmaster, Mr. G. McFarland. This group has grown from a handful of boys to the present number of 23 registered scouts.

Knights Ride Ag'in In Fiery Thriller

The world's great novels still continue to be one of the movies' best story sources. Now it's Robert Louis Stevenson's "The Black Arrow" that has been brought to the screen in all the glory of its fabulous adventure, with the added visual excitement which is Hollywood's own contribution. The Columbia swash-buckler, starring Louis Hayward and Janet Blair as a new romantic team, opens Friday to an enthusiastic audience at the Grove Theatre.

Featured roles in the Edward Small production are portrayed by George Macready (yes, he's a "heavy" again and a particularly despicable one, too!) and Edgar Buchanan, portraying a grim fighter for justice in England of the 15th Century.

Also in key assignments are Rhys Williams, Walter Kingsford, Lowell Gilmore, Halliwell Hobbes, Paul Cavanagh and Ray Teal.

Briefly, the action - packed screenplay for "The Black Arrow," written by Richard Schayer, David P. Sheppard and Thomas Seller, follows the exploits of a young knight after his return home from the War of Roses. Though the hostilities have stopped, the country is divided by political intrigue. He finds that his father has been murdered, and the lovely daughter of the slayer about to be forced into marriage with his uncle. Finally, after an investigation that involves him in countless scrapes with his kin's wily henchmen, he discovers the real killer, his uncle, and challenges him to a trial by combat.

Mrs. F. Krause's troop now has the number 309. They are working on their weaving badges. The have welcomed three new members: Marguerite Moranville, Margaret Moore and Cynthia Burg.

PLANS GIFT OF SILVER

The Golden Circle Class of the Congregational Church will have their annual Christmas party, beginning with a pot luck dinner, Friday December 10, at 6:30 p. m. at the L. F. Herder home at 7052 Central Avenue.

Members were asked to write a small rhyme or jingle to accompany the gift.

climax of the film, is performed with all the pageantry of medieval times and easily ranks as one of the most thrilling and suspenseful duels ever seen in a cape-and-sword drama as the two foes clash with steel-tipped lances, broadswords, battle-axes and maces.

Direction of "The Black Arrow" was in the capable hands of Gordon Douglas. Grant Whytock was the producer.

John Decker is the most renowned of all contemporary artists, and his finest works, including his last masterpiece before his death, will be featured at this exhibit.

MISSIONARY GIVES VIEWS ON CHINA

The Missionary Society of the Congregational Church held their annual dinner and Thank Offering Wednesday evening.

Miss Margaret Atterbury, who was born and raised in China, told of some of the customs and trials of that huge country. And she did not gloss over conditions caused by the Communist infiltration in Mongolia.

Miss Atterbury told that the only labor-saving device in the Chinese home is a daughter-in-law. When a son marries, his bride becomes the personal slave of his mother, her day beginning when she serves tea to her mother-in-law at 5:00 a. m. in her bed. The women of the family have to watch the food supply, and often before harvest, chaff must be added to augment the supply, and many times a family has nothing left for food except "bird seed" or millet, which they boil for food.

The Chinese know very little about their government, and have few interests outside their family life. They worship their parents, and live altogether in huge family units.

So they offer little resistance to the spread of Communism in their territory. According to Miss Atterbury, Russia has seized the munitions factories in Germany, and set them up in Mongolia, along the Yellow Sea. Russia also took possession of all the huge submarine industry in Germany. They seize all landowners they can, and take their holdings. They tear up their railways, burn their schools and hospitals. Bad as was the Japanese invasion, it was not destructive. The Chinese are suffering much worse at the hands of the Communists. Thousands of rural Chinese, their land seized and means of livelihood gone, walk to the cities and try to find food.

The missions had formed several prosperous rural areas there, importing breeding stock for their animal husbandry, and teaching them the use of fertilizer and sprays, so as to increase their yields 100 percent. Now all this is lost, if communism remains unchecked, Miss Atterbury explained. Chiang Kai-Shek and his wife are doing all they can for the nationalists, but are hopelessly outnumbered.

The Chinese Generalissimo was promised the return of Mongolia to China proper, if he would continue resisting the Japs in the early stage of the past war. Now China feels forgotten and very much wronged, that these promises were not kept. And Miss Atterbury feels that if Russia takes all China's resources, other countries will be violated soon. She named several officials in high places in our state who were working for communism; likewise several magazines and periodicals.

FRANK BUCK EXPLAINS JUNGLE BEAST TRAITS

There is one question which Frank Buck, noted wild animal collector, seen in his original adventure film, "Bring 'Em Back Alive," had to answer many times.

The question is: Will animals attack a human being without provocation?

Mr. Buck boiled his answer down to one word: "Yes."

In the twenty years of bringing jungle animals back alive which qualified Mr. Buck to lead the expedition for which Director Clyde E. Elliott filmed the beasts in their native habitat, he has learned that some elephants — "rogues" they are called — cannot be equalled for savagery. As a class, elephants are tractable; but to say that they are all playful, friendly beasts is ridiculous, according to Mr. Buck. By the same token it cannot be said that every tiger is a maneater.

As a matter of fact, man-eating tigers either have been made insane by some accident, or at some time in their history they have had no other food supply and were driven to seize a toddling infant. Once a tiger has tasted human flesh, he never again is highly pleased with anything else. All this is not to say that a tiger will not kill a man when aroused. He will. But he does not seek human flesh until after he has tasted it. Indeed, the tiger, like most other jungle animals, detests the human scent.

Frank Buck's "Bring 'Em Back Alive" opens Friday at the Grove Theatre.

The surest way to live with honor in the world is to be in reality what we appear to be.
